

Project Design Phase Solution Architecture

|               |                                                                              |
|---------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Date          | 15 February 2026                                                             |
| Team ID       | LTVIP2026TMIDS54574                                                          |
| Project Name  | Smart Sorting Transfer Learning for Identifying Rotten Fruits and Vegetables |
| Maximum Marks | 4 Marks                                                                      |

Solution Architecture:

Solution architecture is a complex process – with many sub-processes – that bridges the gap between business problems and technology solutions. Its goals are to:

- Find the best tech solution to solve existing business problems.
- Describe the structure, characteristics, behaviour, and other aspects of the software to project stakeholders.
- Define features, development phases, and solution requirements.
- Provide specifications according to which the solution is defined, managed, and delivered.

